Webinar on "Digital Marketing" 2020

On 14th May 2020, Saturday. KVCH and Department of Computer Science & Applications, Panjab University organised a workshop on "Digital Marketing".

About the event:

Online webinar dated 14 May 2020 with mentor Mr. Manish Rana, KVCH instructor delivered a talk on the "Digital Marketing". In total 50 students from the department attended the online workshop.

The session was commenced with the introduction to digital marketing and the importance it serves in the industry. The instructor touched various topics like mobile marketing, google awards etc and explained their working.

The next topic covered was online reputation management where the instructor relates the topic to the industry. Few examples were given regarding the various ways for digital marketing. The relevance of email marketing was explained along with ad-sense & blogging. A comparison was made between them.

The overall experience was great as digital marketing has been immensely applied in the industry. The instructor explained Social Media Optimization (SMO) which is the process of increasing the publicity and awareness of a product, brand etc and carried out a discussion on the various topics covered. The webinar was very involving and interesting.